CAREER:

Mar. 2025- present

Professor, Department of Life Science, Sardar Patel University, Balaghat, Madhya Pradesh, India

Mar. 2021- Feb. 2025

Research Professor, Agriculture Science and Technology Research Institute, Andong National University, South Korea.

SUMMARY:

I have more than ten years of post-Ph.D. experience including research and teaching. My research belongs to two focal areas i.e. sustainable food resources (Bioresource) and nutritional ecology. Investigating nutritional profile (which involves biochemical analyses) and farming system development of some underutilized food resources (e.g. insects and snails) are the primary objectives of my research on sustainable food resources. The second area of my research deals with foraging behaviour, bee nutrition, and the bee and physiology (which involves biochemical and microbial investigation and apicultural techniques).

RESEARCH INTERESTS:

- Bio-prospects of insects as food (Entomophagy) and feed
- Underutilized food resources (Sustainable food and nutrition security)
- Nutritional ecology (Pollinators' foraging behavior, feed and health)
- Food chemistry and functional foods, Biochemistry

SUBJECTS TAUGHT

- Industrial entomology (Insect bioresource)
- Biochemistry
- Molecular biology
