(b) Participation and contribution in relevant areas in higher education: Actively participated and contributed in setting up Presidency University, Bangalore from the beginning, across the following categories:

1. Regulatory Requirements: Affiliation and Approvals: to obtain from UGC, AICTE, BCI, Karnataka state higher education Council (KHEC) etc.
2. Infrastructure Development: Plan for essential facilities including classrooms, laboratories, libraries, hostels, faculty housing, and recreational areas. Set up state-of-the-art laboratories and research facilities.
3. Academic Planning: Curriculum Development:
4. Accreditation: Apply for accreditation from bodies like NAAC and NBA. Ensure continuous improvement and quality assurance processes are in place.
5. Faculty Recruitment and Development: Focus on diverse and inclusive hiring practices.
6. Training and Development: To Provide continuous professional development opportunities for faculty.
7. Encourage research, publications, and participation in conferences.
8. Admissions Process: To support the admission team in various aspects like arranging educational fairs, counselling etc.
9. Student Setheices: Establish counseling, career guidance, and mentoring setheices. Develop extracurricular and co-curricular programs for holistic development.
10. Governance and Administration Administrative Structure: Formulate a governance structure with clear roles and responsibilities. Establish boards of management, academic councils, and committees for effective decision-making.
11. Policies and Procedures: To Develop policies for academic affairs, finance, human resources, and student conduct.
- 12.. Financial Planning and Management Funding: Secure funding from government grants, private investors, and industry partnerships.
13. Budgeting and Financial Management: Develop a comprehensive budget for capital and operational expenses. Implement robust financial management and auditing practices.
14. Industry and International Collaborations: Partnerships: Establish collaborations with industry for internships, research, and placements. Develop international partnerships for student and faculty exchange programs.
15. Research and Innovation: Promote a culture of research and innovation. Set up centers of excellence and incubation centers for startups.

13. My Strength

My strengths are prominently

- 1.Extensive Academic Leadership experience: I have the privilege of serving various administrative and leadership capacities in which have allowed me to develop a well-rounded understanding of the complex and dynamic environment of higher education. My experience includes significant roles in academic management, Faculty management, strategic planning and execution and Institutional developments.
- 2.Visionary & strategic Thinking: Skills in implementing OBE, NEP2020 guidelines, Curriculum innovation aligned with industry needs.
- 3.Strong administrative Acumen.

4. Proven ability to lead multi-disciplinary Teams, manage academic operations and Digital transformation in education.
5. Research & Innovation Promoter.
6. Showcased in exceptional adaptability, effective communication skills. With a keen ability to navigate complex challenges, consistently demonstrate resilience and a positive mindset.
7. I have proactive approach to problem-solving and dedication to continuous learning contribute to my professional growth. Adept at collaborative teamwork, my leadership qualities shine through in motivating and inspiring others.
8. Furthermore, my strong interpersonal skills foster meaningful connections, and commitment to delivering quality results underscores reliability. These attributes collectively position as a valuable asset, capable of thriving in dynamic environments and contributing significantly to any endeavor.

14. Projecting the Vision & Institutional Development of University based on its Core Values

Introduction:

The University, with its strong foundation of values rooted in holistic education, ethical leadership, and community engagement, stands at the threshold of furthering its academic excellence and institutional development. As Vice Chancellor, my vision for the university would be to integrate its core values into every facet of institutional growth and development. I would work toward building an innovative and inclusive academic environment while nurturing a culture of integrity, sustainability, and social responsibility.

1. Academic Excellence and Innovation:

University's commitment to academic excellence is central to its mission, and this is a value I hold in the highest regard. I envision an institution that continuously adapts to the evolving landscape of global education. By fostering a culture of innovation and interdisciplinary collaboration, I would prioritize the development of cutting-edge programs that blend traditional learning with contemporary technological advancements. Encouraging faculty to engage in forward-thinking research and offering students exposure to the latest trends in technology, leadership, and entrepreneurship will prepare them to become leaders in an ever-changing world.

To achieve this, I would invest in modernizing the curriculum to include new areas of study, such as Construction studies, Artificial Intelligence, Data Science, Sustainability, and Social Impact, while ensuring that core values such as ethics, responsibility, and integrity are incorporated into all academic disciplines. This approach would empower students to think critically, act ethically, and contribute meaningfully to society.

2. Holistic Development and Student-Centric Approach:

University's emphasis on the holistic development of its students is a value I am particularly passionate about. Education should not only impart knowledge but also nurture personal growth, critical thinking, and ethical consciousness. As Vice Chancellor, I would focus on enhancing the student experience by offering a wide range of extracurricular opportunities that promote leadership, cultural engagement, and social responsibility. This could include service-learning projects, global exchange programs, and entrepreneurship initiatives that encourage students to apply their learning in real-world contexts.

I would also prioritize student support services to ensure that all students, regardless of background, have access to the resources they need to succeed—whether through mentorship programs, career counselling, or mental health services. University should be a place where every student feels valued, supported, and empowered to reach their full potential.

3. Community Engagement and Social Responsibility:

The core value of social responsibility at University calls for an active engagement with the broader community. I would advocate for stronger partnerships between the university and local, national, and international organizations to create opportunities for students, faculty, and staff to contribute to social change. Through community-based research, service-learning projects, and outreach initiatives, we can create meaningful solutions to local and global challenges while instilling in our students a deep sense of purpose and social responsibility.

I also envision University being a beacon of sustainability and environmental stewardship. Incorporating sustainability into research, campus operations, and student projects can align the university with global efforts to address climate change, biodiversity loss, and social inequalities.

4. Ethical Leadership and Governance:

University's commitment to integrity and ethical leadership is the cornerstone of its academic and administrative culture. As Vice Chancellor, I would ensure that ethical practices are embedded in all decision-making processes—from admissions and recruitment to research funding and campus management. I believe in transparency, accountability, and collaborative governance, ensuring that all stakeholders—faculty, staff, students, and alumni—have a voice in the direction of the university.

In conclusion, the vision for University's future will be built on the solid foundation of its core values. By prioritizing academic excellence, holistic student development, community engagement, and ethical leadership, I am confident that University can continue to thrive as a globally recognized institution that shapes leaders, innovators, and changemakers for years to come. In University, I envision initiating transformative development work focused on academic innovation, interdisciplinary research, and industry-linked programs. I aim to strengthen the university's research ecosystem by establishing specialized centers of excellence and fostering global academic collaborations. Emphasis will also be placed on curriculum modernization, faculty development, and creating a vibrant innovation and entrepreneurship culture among students. My goal is to position University as a model institution known for academic rigor, social impact, and global engagement
