🎯 Objective

I am a committed legal professional with a passion for both teaching and courtroom practice. Since 2018, I have been teaching law to undergraduate students and judiciary aspirants, while actively practicing in trial courts and other legal forums. Balancing academics and litigation has allowed me to bring real-world legal insights into the classroom and apply sound theoretical understanding in practice. I now seek to contribute to an institution where I can continue nurturing future legal minds while growing as a practitioner and educator.
