30. Tell us how you can help the University become one of the best in the country:

The university serves as a comprehensive platform that nurtures the multidimensional growth of learners, and establishing progressive development is a demanding task that calls for experience. Understanding emerging trends and the associated technology can be effectively addressed by anyone who explores these areas. Effective leadership, guided by dedicated individuals, is essential for driving continuous improvement in teaching and implementation, and such leadership can significantly enhance outcomes. Encouraging an interdisciplinary approach among students is one of the most effective ways to prepare them for technological challenges. I am confident that this can be achieved. Research and development in machine learning and deep learning offer abundant opportunities for job seekers. My priority is to transform every department into a centre of excellence for training and quality assurance. I am committed to advancing all departments through government funding initiatives such as Innovation TBI, IIPC, IQAC, Placement and Training, Skill Development, New-Gen IEDC, and similar programs.
